What About Our Post-War Conditions?

What do the business people and farmers of Washington C. H. and the rest of Fayette County face in this post-Korean period of economics?

Regardless of the outcome of truce and peace negotiations, undoubtedly there will be some adjustments to be made, but thoughtful observers indicate that the rule of common sense, properly applied, will bring no serious effects.

One prominent Ohio economist, Mervin G. Smith, head of the department of agricultural economics for the state Agricultural Experiment Station and Ohio State University, has indicated that the country's business and farm activities will be only mildly affected, even with the establishment of permanent peace in Korea.

It is pointed out that there may be a slight decrease in the record number of employed, the problem of farm surpluses may be "intensified," and industrial expansion may slow down a bit; but, generally speaking, the end of active hostilities will cause no noticeable deceleration within the U. S. farm-industry community—at least in the near future.

Mr. Mervin's forecast is substantially the same as that of many American business leaders. Some industrialists expect a Korean truce to bring a temporary period of adjustment in a number of fields. However, most are convinced that the market for manufactured goods and the opportunities for moderate business expansion will remain constant, or possibly improve, in the days ahead.

This optimism is especially significant in view of the fact that since the invasion of South Korea in 1950 the capacities of the nation's steel mills, chemical plants, petroleum refineries, machine tool factories, electric power systems, aluminum smelters, and railroads have reached higher levels than at any time in history.

Farm and dairy production, too, has grown to gargantuan proportions. For the last three years the nation has pursued a "policy of guns and butter—and there's been plenty of butter."

Nor is this all. Not only has the Korean rearmament program, coupled with tremendous capital expansion in peacetime enterprise, raised American industrial output to an unprecedented peak, far exceeding that reached during World War II, but supplies of raw materials—with the exception of nickel—are more than ample for present needs. The ingenuity of private industry has made possible the use of low-grade American ores and the development of new techniques for extracting hard-to-get minerals; private investment in iron mines in Labrador and South America has also given the nation access to heretofore untapped sources of the vital metal.

The attitude of individual industrialists and economists toward the prospects of continued economic stability in the United States is worthy of note, considering still-prevalent misgivings. There are those who believe that the very size of the U. S. production plant is potentially dangerous, that in time it may swamp its market, causing the American economy to sag beneath the weight of a mass of unwanted consumer goods, even as today's swollen farm output has far outstripped demand for certain foods.

It is comforting to know that such dire predictions, while given serious consideration, are not accepted by the men who have charge of the machinery upon which the nation's security, in both peace and war, depends.

Gen. Dean Gave A Rare Example

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (P)—You don't have to meet a man in this world to learn something from him.

I never met Maj. Gen. William Dean. I got to Korea late in July 1950, a few days after he was reported missing in combat. This I have always regretted. I would like to have seen him in action.

He is free again now, after nearly three years in enemy prison camps. But although I never met him personally, he has enriched my life by teaching me two things:

1. Don't sell faith short.

2. A man's example lives beyond his presence.

When I first reached Korea, Gen. Dean's 24th Infantry Division was still retreating after a series of confused but magnificent delaying stands to hold up an overwhelming North Korean Army that, had it known how to use its power, would have had the entire peninsula in three short weeks.

A still-dazed American officer told me:

"We thought all we had to do was to stand on a hill and show the U. S. uniform, and all those little brown gooks would run back north where they came from."

In those dark days the 24th Division had suffered terrible losses. And each day it suffered more. It is less a criticism of the men than it is of America to say the division was unready for combat.

The men weren't in proper shape. They were short of the right weapons. And so it was that Gen. Dean, a first class fighting man, had to go up and do what no division commander should be required to do.

He had to go up and show the boys how. He himself was the 24th Division. He was the spearhead of an ill-prepared America—in the flesh. He had to do what they teach a commander at West Point he shouldn't have to do. He had to go to the bare front, forget his two stars, and lead like a second lieutenant. So did his colonels, including rugged Dick Stephens, later known as "The Big Six," and now a major general himself.

The fate of Gen. Dean was to be captured after trying to get a wounded man back. He knew that theoretically a man of his rank shouldn't be where he was, but he was fighting a fact, not a taught war. Without the on-the-spot leadership that such commanders as he and Col. Stephens gave, the retreat would have become a rout.

After his bullet-pierced helmet was found, those of us who came later were sure Gen. Dean was dead. But again and again we ran into this stubborn comment from the enlisted men who had seen him fight:

"They just couldn't have killed the general. He's too smart for them. He'll turn up yet!"

This faith seemed futile and foolish to us at the time. But it was amazing how the example of Gen. Dean's personal courage carried on with his men. They found it hard to let him down, knowing what he had done. And they didn't let him down.

Through all the months after that each member of the battered 24th Division felt he could hardly do less than his lost leader.

That kind of frontline leadership went out of the American Army with the Civil War. It is too expensive, and a modern army no longer can afford it.

But it is a fact of history that the sacrifice and valor of Gen. Dean paid off magnificently. Nor will the American Army (and the relations between officer and enlisted man) suffer by what he did.

In the annals of our soldiery he will be imperishably remembered as the general who, when it had to be done, went up gun in hand and showed the boys how. No other officer in our time has done more to popularize the stars of rank.

Weather Is Tough on Planners

By George Sokolsky

This was to have been the year of a prize garden for me. Up here in the Berkshires almost anything is supposed to bloom and fructify, if only one plans correctly, rests the soil for the PH factor, weeds the garden once or twice, puts in good seed.

So, we did all that, particularly the planning at which we are past masters. But in the early spring, there was a deluge of rains and many of the seeds rotted. We replanted carefully, hoping that there would be a drier after light rains, the drizzly kind that plants prefer. We could not make a contract on it, but the fact is that this summer we never got that kind of rain, not once.

Early in the summer, we had a light frost, the teasing kind that does slight damage but enough to make it necessary to scurry around to dealers to buy plants for replacements.

Then up came the peas and the broccoli and all the other things to eat and flowers to look at, and every morning I would walk all over the place, praising the Lord and my own skill as a gardener. However, one morning the tops of the peas and the young broccoli were chewed off, apparently by rabbits or maybe woodchucks, of both of which we have plentiful congregations.

Then another morning, I noted that the deer had helped themselves to the succulent tops of the beets. That annoyed me no end because that is the part of the beet that I like best, the green tops, boiled down with vinegar and fresh ground pepper.

Well, we had a wonderful garden just the same, everything coming up in the right time and the right place until the drought happened. It is now 44 days since we have had rain. I never planned it that way. For a few days, we did a good deal of watering, but then the springs began to go down; so we left the vegetables and flowers to the hot sun and hoped for the best. The best did not happen. The garden wilted. Some of it died. Who dares do a diagnosis?

That I fear is the fate of all planners. The old farmers tell me that the best way to remain an optimist is to put the seed in the ground and hope, because nature is a dirty player and there is no telling what it might do. One summer we had a frost every month except in August. Perhaps that is why the farmers up here prefer to work in the woods.

Now, all things in life teach a lesson, if only one can learn. And the lesson of this summer proves that man proposes and God disposes. That is why there are dust bowls in spite of all the wisdom of the great planners. Where there should be meadow-land, man insists upon growing wheat and he eventually gets a dust bowl because he has interfered with the balance of nature.

It is like sprinkling everything with D. D. T. which kills bugs but also bees and without bees we can be reduced to a North Chinese diet, eating such a grain as millet which is unfit to eat. Perhaps the scientists are smart when they make atom bombs and hydrogen bombs, but who knows yet what these enormous puffs are doing to the balance of nature? Maybe that is why some have too much rain and others too little this year, or maybe some fool will one day melt the ice at the North Pole and we shall be flooded as Noah's generation was. It is easier for the human mind to plan than it is for that same mind to carry the plan to a damageless fruition.

Charles J. Lindbergh, who has done considerable work in science, once wrote about this tellingly. He said:

"Each development of science demands more science to maintain it, more to improve it, more to keep in advance of its use by our potential enemies. Scientific man is driven faster and faster by his system until he has no time left, no thought left, no appreciation left for man himself. He is dependent for his security on the increasing complication of a mechanistic organization which is already too complicated for him to control."

And to that I can say amen as I gaze upon my waterless cucumbers.

Britain Tightens Air Show Rules

FARNBOROUGH, England (P)—Britain unexpectedly threw a tight cloak of secrecy over some of her latest aviation developments. Censors ordered several entries removed from the annual air show sponsored by the Society of British Aircraft Constructors.

The government order affected a model of a jet-powered helicopter, an exhibit showing details of a jet engine and a new aviation camera. The big show got underway here Monday with many foreign observers on hand. No official representatives from Communist countries had been invited.

New Drug Developed To Use in Childbirth

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Doctors have long been seeking an ideal drug for obstetrical work, one that would encourage delivery of healthy babies and keep the mother's physical condition as close as possible to her regular health.

For the physician, the most trying period of the pregnancy is the time of labor when he is faced with the dilemma of relieving the mother's pain. He must use caution in not giving her too great an amount of pain relieving drugs if they are indicated. Overdosage with these drugs can endanger the infant. The drugs are transmitted from the mother's blood to the baby and may cause its lungs to function improperly upon delivery. The sought-after drug is one that would relieve the mother's pain but little affect the infant.

Recently, a synthetic drug, known as nisentil, has been used for relief of labor pains. It was found that it produced good relief within a few minutes in many mothers. In fact, over ninety-eight per cent of the mothers had satisfactory relief of pregnancy pain.

When nisentil is combined with another drug, scopolamine, its effect is further enhanced. It was found that the combination of these two drugs did not have too much of an effect on the newborn. The small effect that was found was present in only a very few of the infants delivered. It also had a tendency to shorten the duration of the labor period.

Thus, a new drug that is effective in helping relieve the pain of childbirth without affecting the baby has been produced synthetically. It may prove a boon to the mother, the child, the physician, and even the country seeking to increase its birth rate. But only time will tell.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. R. H.: What are the common causes of women dying from childbirth?

Answer: The most common cause for women dying from childbirth is severe hemorrhage. Another important cause for mortality in childbirth is toxemia of pregnancy, in which the mother's body fails to eliminate certain toxic products. Infection, which at one time was a major cause for death at childbirth, has been eliminated as a major cause by the antibiotic drugs.

Four College Editors Plan Russia Trip

NEW YORK (P)—Four college newspaper editors are making plans to accept Soviet promises of visas for travel in Russia.

Zander Hollander of Brooklyn, feature editor of the University of Michigan Daily, said last night he and the three others are making arrangements for the trip.

He said the others are Natalie Becker of Brooklyn, editor of the Vassar College (Poughkeepsie, N. Y.) Miscellany Arts; Daniel Berger, editor of the Oberlin (Ohio) College Review; and Mark Edmond, editor of the University of Colorado Daily.

Two other students, also promised visas by the Soviet Embassy in Washington, have not indicated their intentions. The two are Arthur Brown of Mishawaka, Ind., editor of the University of Chicago Maroon, and Kenneth F. Rystrom of Mayard, Neb., editor at the University of Nebraska.

The editorial board of the Queens College Crown, a student weekly at the New York municipal college, initiated the idea of the trip. The plan came after a recent tour of Russia by a group of American editors and publishers.

Ninety college and university newspapers were polled, and 16 agreed to participate. But only 7 editors applied for the visas.

Their application was filed in July, and the Soviet Embassy reply came Aug. 31. It assured that the visas will be issued upon presentation of passports.

Change In Accident Pattern This Month

Fayette County people this week will learn that the opening of school often marks the time of a decided change in the accident pattern.

According to E. H. Davis, head of the Ohio Safety Council, the season of the year is more responsible for the accident rate increase than the opening of school, however.

He calls attention to the fact that home accidents usually increase sharply from the lower level in July and August beginning this month. Falls and fire seem to be responsible for most of this increase. Chilly evening and mornings, are declared to be primarily a factor in this.

ELDERLY FOLK are most likely to suffer falls and burns. Their muscles and joints need warmth to keep them functioning properly. It doesn't take much time in the cool of the evening to make our senior citizens huddle a bit when they arise from their chairs. This temporary stiffness contributes to many stumbles and falls.

It is a good idea to have a bit of fire many times in September. Yet it is improper fire building that produces many, many fatal burns each heating season. Don't wait too long before laying the fire. Start it right around dinner time. Then it may grow slowly and have the house cozy—long before bed time.

Too many persons and homes are burned because someone tried to hasten the heating fire. Our waste baskets have a lot of discarded plastic wrappings. Some of these burn rapidly—almost violently. If the furnace or fireplace is loaded with waste papers—we may have a lot of heat—too much too quick.

"NEVER, NEVER, never—no never use any flammable liquid to speed the kindling of the fire. Kerosene, gasoline, benzene, naphtha, alcohol, turpentine... each of these fluids produced conflagration and death in 1952—because they were used to hurry up a fire," Davis asserts.

It is probably impossible to freeze to death in Ohio during September. Put on a sweater or coat—and wait until the natural development of the fire produces comfort.

Our motor vehicle accidents will increase each month from September to the December peak. Wet roads, mud, gravel or leaves will be a factor in some cases. The primary contributor to highway tragedy is poor visibility. Wet or steamy windshields, mud splattered on them, is more frequent.

The shorter hours of daylight, fog, mist or smoke in the air, often reduce visibility to one-tenth of what we enjoyed in June.

It is necessary to reduce our speeds of travel so we can stop our car in the space that is illuminated by our headlights. And 40 miles an hour is as fast as we can go and still stop in that lighted space.

BEFORE SEPTEMBER ends many of us will go to work, or come home, in darkness. This means more pedestrians will be almost invisible. In fact last September's pedestrian deaths were 20 percent higher than August's.

Poor visibility isn't solely a driver problem. The person on foot, hurrying to get out of weather, rain splashing in his face—can not see well either. Street lighting comes on by time table, not by seeing conditions. Too many motorists drive around town on their parking lights. Few pedestrians can judge distance and speed under such conditions. At times it is almost impossible to know if a car is actually moving.

These factors contribute to the increase in collisions between motor vehicles and trains. An added complication is that auto windows are probably closed. It's occupants can't hear if a train is coming... So if the driver pays little or no attention to warnings on the highway—the train is seen too late to escape accident.

DAVIS SAID HE was not neglecting the school situation—just saving it for his last point. The speed limit in School Zones is 20 MPH. The average School Zone is a few hundred feet. You can not lose a half-minute by traveling through it at legal speed, all the time. But a child can lose its life, if you hurry through the School Zone just once.

Many persons are confused about Ohio's school bus stop law. Just remember this. You must always stop behind a school bus that is stopped on your side of the road to receive or discharge passengers. In fact, the only time you don't have to stop is when you are on a multiple lane highway and the school bus is going the opposite direction—that is it isn't even on your half of the highway.

Davis suggested that if you are in doubt—STOP. You'll be delayed only a short time, and no one will be hurt.

It is estimated that U. S. chickens produce about 100 million pounds of feathers a year.

Martin Sees No Special Session Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.) today ruled out the possibility of a special session of Congress later this year but conceded "there will be plenty of work next year."

He said earlier talk of a special session hinged on the belief the administration might regard it as necessary for Congress to boost the national debt limit, which it refused to do just before adjourning last month. Since then, however, administration fiscal experts have indicated that the present statutory debt limit of $275 billion won't be reached this year.

Martin emphasized he does not believe Congress will renew next year the excess profits tax extended this year until next Jan. 1. And he said he is sure the presently scheduled 10 per cent cut in income taxes will become effective Jan. 1 without any attempt being made to halt it.

"Those taxes are going off for sure," he said.

On the subject of what new revenue might be needed to replace tax drops due next year, Martin would not comment. Congressional committees are studying the general tax picture now, he said, and will have recommendations later.

Taxes are likely to be among

Judge's Ruling On Highway Eyed

COLUMBUS (AP)—A Madison County judge's ruling that the state highway director may not deprive property owners of access to a certain stretch of U. S. 40 has attorneys pondering law books.

Common Pleas Judge James F. Bell ruled the highway director took the law into his own hands in limiting entrance to 13.58 miles of the highway. He said the route in his county has not been especially designed for through traffic. Therefore, he ruled, it could not be declared a limited access road.

Dems To Ponder 'Loyalty' Issue

CHICAGO (AP)—The Democratic party's so-called "loyalty" pledge appears a likely lively topic of debate at next week's meeting of national party leaders.

Southern opposition to the "loyalty" oath was underlined yesterday when Gov. Hugh White of Mississippi said he would ask the party's Executive Committee to hear his argument for scuttling it.

Some other Southern party leaders were expected to join White in denouncing the "loyalty" oath which Northerner "young Turks" sought to apply last year.

"the tough problems Congress must face next year," he said.

Lioness Club Holds Regular Dinner Meeting

The regular dinner meeting of the Washington C. H. Lioness Club was held at the Washington Country Club.

Following the dinner the meeting was opened in ritualistic form by Lioness Mrs. Eddie McCoy, president, and Mrs. Neil Helfrich introduced the guest speaker, Prof. H. R. Cotterman of Capital University, who gave humorous talk and opened his talk with the statement that "the female of the species is more deadly than the male" which led up to more serious thought on the "equal rights" of women.

Following Prof. Cotterman's talk the business session consisted of plans for a benefit bridge at the Dayton Power and Light Company Club room at 8 P. M., Wednesday, September 23, and members are working on the several committees completing arrangements.

Among the various reports given Mrs. Clifford Hughes announced that several children had been taken to the Eye Clinics at Children's and University Hospitals in Columbus, during the past month. Mrs. Wayne Bower was appointed.

Mrs. Harold Pope Is Hostess To Church Society

Mrs. Harold Pope was hostess to members of the Comrades of the Second Mile at her lovely country home near Bloomington, Wednesday evening, for the first of the calendar year after a summer recess.

The new president, Mrs. Charles Cunningham, opened the meeting with a welcome to the members, and presented Mrs. Lloyd Iden, who led in the impressive devotions which included an article, "The Beginning and The Ending," Scripture from Ecclesiastes by Mrs. Iden, and prayer by Mrs. John Glenn closed this period.

The usual reports were heard and approved and committees composed of flowers and cards, Mrs. W. P. Noble and Miss Ilo Larimer; special music, Mrs. Olive McIntosh and Mrs. Howard Foster and calendar, Mrs. Joe Elliott, Mrs. Glen Earl Davis, Jr., Mrs. Harold Pope and Mrs. Don Sollars.

The business session was concluded and Mrs. Cunningham, who used as her subject a chapter from the book of "Confident Living," by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, which was greatly appreciated by the fifteen members and two guests present.

During the social hour, Mrs. Pope was assisted by Mrs. Don Sollars and Mrs. Alice Croy in the serving of dainty refreshments.

Mrs. Wells Reinohl of Chicago, Ill., a former member and Mrs. Melvin, the speaker, were included as guests.

Sorority Holds Regular Meeting

Members of Beta Iota Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority met in regular session at the home of Mrs. Clyde McCray, Jr.

Miss Ann Washburn was chosen "Golden Girl" for the coming year and Mrs. David Looker, the president, presented her with a plaque and she also received her pledge pin in the traditional pin ceremony.

Plans were made to hold a party honoring new pledges, at the home of Mrs. Gene Mark, in October, and Mrs. Dwight Duff was appointed to be chairman of the entertainment, with Mrs. Clyde McCray, Jr. and Miss Barbara West as her assistants.

It was decided that all members would participate in the project of selling Christmas cards and Mrs. Marlyn Reno was appointed to be chairman of this project.

A contribution was also made to the Band Uniform Fund and at the conclusion of the business meeting tempting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Paddy Boso and Miss Dorothy Pyle.

The next meeting is to be a model meeting at the home of Miss Joy Cockerill.

Cecilians Enjoy Program On Symphonies

The first meeting of the new calendar year of Cecilians was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, and Mrs. John E. Rhoads presided over the business session, during which Mrs. Omar Schwartz gave a report on the Junior Music Club which the Cecilians sponsor.

The program on the theme, "Symphonic Masterpieces," was in charge of Mrs. Harry G. Craig, and she prefaced the program with an introduction: "It is hard to know why there has come to be such a gulf between so-called serious and popular music, but it's probably neither a very healthy or normal state of affairs. I forget what composer it was who said that there was only one music, whether it is found in a waltz, a symphony or a lullaby. But he uttered a profound truth that we have nearly forgotten today.

"Do you remember how scandalized some musicians were when Raymond Scott and Benny Goodman started 'swinging' Haydn and Tchaikovsky on the dance floor? Well, when Mozart went to Prague and found that his great opera, 'The Marriage of Figaro,' had been turned into dance hits, and all the people, in his words, were 'hopping around to their hearts' content' to the airs of 'Figaro,' he wasn't scandalized or even annoyed. He was delighted. And he spoke of it as 'truly a great honor for me.' Of course he couldn't sue the arrangers anyway, because there were no copyrights in those days.

"But the point is that he thought it was a wonderful thing, and took special relish in writing his friends about it. And it's just possible that Mozart was right, and the modern aesthetes who hold their noses when they hear a swing band doing Tchaikovsky are wrong."

Mrs. Maurice Hopkins played recordings of selected symphonies, including "Fifth Symphony," by Beethoven; "Unfinished Symphony," by Schubert; "Beethoven's 10th Symphony," by Brahms, and various movements of the 5th and 5th Symphonies by Tchaikovsky.

Forest Chapter Eastern Star Honors Officers

The regular meeting of Forest Chapter Eastern Star was held in Masonic Hall, Bloomington, and the occasion honored past matrons and patrons of the chapter.

Worthy Matron and Patron, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moats, assisted by their corps of officers, presented a short program, entitled "The Ladder of Service."

The past officers were welcomed and presented with miniature gavels, after which each gave a short talk on some outstanding event they remembered while in office, which proved to be most interesting.

The next meeting on October 5 will feature "Friendship Night" with Jefferson, Concord, Sedalia and Circleville chapters as guests and a special program is being planned by the committee.

Easy lunch: Heat canned cream-style white or yellow corn and serve it topped with strips of crisp bacon or small browned pork sausages.

Refreshments, featuring a decorated birthday cake topped with four candles, were served with ice cream, coffee and soft drinks during an evening of informal visiting.

West Europe Asked To Aid World Bank

More Investment
Money Said Needed
To Help Poor Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western European nations were called on today by the World Bank to make more investment money available and help it develop other areas.

The bank's annual report showed that the ten highly industrialized nations of Western Europe have made fully available to the bank only $62,804,000 in its seven years of existence. Another $308,618,000 is also available, but subject to conditions that make it hard for the bank to count on when it is considering loans.

These are the highly industrialized countries able to produce the goods that underdeveloped countries need. They had pledged $558,540,000 for the bank's active lending. The countries are: Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, The Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and the United Kingdom. The United States is the only country which has put up its full pledge—$572,500,000. Canada with $53,365,000, has nearly reached that point.

A similar appeal made last year brought the unconditional release of $26,600,000 worth of European currencies in the past twelve months that ended June 30. World Bank officials say that more and more is being released every year.

Britain released 60 million pounds (168 million dollars) last year, the bank notes, but only for use in the sterling area and after consultation in each case.

The report was prepared for delivery today by President Eugene Black at the opening of the eighth annual meeting of the bank's board of governors. The meeting is scheduled to last through Saturday.

It points to the fact that supplies are now more freely available outside the United States and that well over a third of its spending last year was beyond its limits. The proportion of non-dollar loans also increased.

But unless the European governments release more funds to the bank, it warns that its activities may be restrained. Reluctance to do so, it points out, also reduces possible exports by European members.

Loans to European countries amounted to equivalent of $34,333,

Ike Has About Three Weeks To Pick New Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has only a little over three weeks to name a successor to the late Chief Justice Vinson if he wishes the appointee to be on the job at the time the Supreme Court opens its new term.

464, in the $178,600,000 lent during the twelve months that ended June 30. That brought the total on loan in Europe to $734,000,000—more than has been lent to any other area and nearly half the bank's total loans.

The bank made no Middle East loans in the period covered, but did put fourteen million dollars in to railway development on Northern Rhodesia.

The report devotes a considerable section to a new phenomenon in underdeveloped countries, the establishment of what it calls "institutions to weigh government policy and guide government investment in economic development."

It cites the National Bank for Development in Brazil, the National Planning Council in Colombia and the Development Board in Iraq.

That time is noon on Monday, Oct. 5, the date fixed by law for term-opening formalities. Vinson was arranging details before he was stricken with a fatal heart attack yesterday. He was 63.

Since Congress is in adjournment, Eisenhower is expected to fill the vacancy by recess appointment, subject to later confirmation by the Senate.

If the President makes his choice in time for the new term opening, the appointee can make an all-out plunge into the court's work Oct. 5.

This is true even though formalities witnessed by the public in open court that day take only half an hour or so and are routine.

THE JUSTICES then go to a closed conference room, take off their black robes and begin work on a stack of about 400 appeals that have piled up during the summer recess. They debate the legal merits of each appeal and decide which will be rejected and which will be granted open hearings.

The closed session goes on all week. Then on the following Monday, Oct. 12, the court announces its decisions on these appeals and begins a two-week session of hearing arguments on pleas that were granted late in the last term.

The Record-Herald, Thurs., Sept. 10, 1953 7
Washington C. H., Ohio

If Eisenhower has not chosen a new chief justice by Oct. 5, Associate Justice Black will preside until Vinson's successor is named.

Black takes on this task as senior judge in point of service and is referred to as presiding justice.

Speculation over Eisenhower's choice centers on the name of Earl Warren, California's Republican governor. For some months, Warren has been reported headed for a Supreme Court seat when the Eisenhower administration had the duty of filling its first vacancy. Warren's term as governor, however, runs through next year; he would have to resign to accept an appointment to the high bench now.

Other Republicans whose names figured in court speculation were Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Chief Justice Arthur V. Vanderbilt of the New Jersey Supreme Court and Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, N. C., presiding judge of the 4th U. S. Circuit Court.

DAYTON (AP)—Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Airlines and a World War I ace, said last night:

"Only a better and stronger Air Force than the United States now has will halt the Kremlin's program to involve this country in a costly series of little wars." He spoke at a Dayton Chamber of Commerce industrial safety forum.

Guaranteed Annual Wage Next Demand?

Major Job Security Strategy Is Mapped By Labor Unions

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Annual wages for the factory worker as well as the white collar man could be the next big—and possibly bitter—battle in the labor field.

The tip-off that job security is coming to top higher hourly pay rates in the worker's eyes might be found in the recent break in the stock market. It has multiplied hitlers over a feared dip later on in production, and therefore in jobs in basic industries such as steel, autos and appliances.

Should such a dip materialize it means layoffs. And labor leaders realize their men can't make their new and higher wage scales go far at the grocery store if the factory is shut down.

In previous years, with the economy on the upgrade, labor negotiators asked for the guaranteed annual wage, but they settled for wage increases instead. Now they are more nervous about layoffs.

But if it thinks a slump is coming, management naturally is going to be just that less willing to commit itself to paying for a year's work if the work may not be done.

Walter Reuther has given notice he'll ask for a guaranteed annual wage for his CIO United Auto Workers.

"When a company has to pay a guaranteed annual wage," he argues, "it will do something about stopping layoffs." He sees production falling and layoffs the order of the day "if the purchasing power of the people isn't increased."

Management has its stake in steady production, too. Full production schedules every working day make for complete and efficient use of a company's facilities, as the American Institute of Management, of New York, points out. It holds: "Unemployment and uncertainty are factors too large for managements interested in survival to take lightly any longer."

The institute sees both advantages and disadvantages in an annual wage for production workers. If the peaks and valleys of production and employment can be leveled off, the loss of idle machinery is cut. Stabilization also reduces the risk of high labor turnover and the cost of training new workers. The institute also suggests the guarantee might increase productivity by removing worry.

But it says there's also the chance that job insecurity leads workers to work harder to keep a job. Other disadvantages it mentions are that the guarantee's fixed costs would raise the break-even point in many industries and increase the mortality rate of businesses.

And, of course, a serious recession could mean a drop in demand for the company's products that would dry up the sales out of which the fixed annual wages would have to be paid.

Commonly heard phrases in the past included "Liar," "Rascal," "Scoundrel," "Fascist Criminal" and "Kremlin Stogie."

Right from its first days, the assembly has been the scene of uproarious disputes. Fist fights broke out on all sides. Imprecations and inkwells were hurled with equal abandon. One Roman newspaper suggested that the assembly would soon provide exhibitions not seen since Nero's days.

The first assembly spent its closing day in a knockdown brawl. The Monarchists swarmed back from their benches and were met half-way in the hemicycle of the chamber by deputies from the left.

A FEW practice swings and then the Leftists cried, "Viva la Repubblica!" The Monarchists yelled back, "Viva la Monarchia!" and the Center shouted, "Viva l'Italia!" always a safe bet. All of them eventually got in the melee and the hall had to be cleared.

However, after the 1948 elections, punches continued being punched and faces slapped during hot-tempered debates. Once when about 50 vocal outbursts occurred during a speech, the speaker of the chamber plaintively asked if there was any point in continuing the meeting. "I can understand interruptions every sentence, but at every word—that is too much!"

As political lines strengthened in post-war Italy, the Communists organized in assault squads. Certain groups were to raise parliamentary objectives, others dream up amendments, still others work in committee to delay.

The climax came with Communist obstruction of the government's controversial election reform bill this year.

SHRIEKING insults, Left-Wing deputies physically blocked the way to the box where colored balls are cast as ballots. When pro-government deputies forced their way through to vote, one of the Communists leaped to the voting table and hurled the ballot box, votes and all, in the air.

A Conservative leaped up and down in front of the speaker of the chamber, beating his desk with both palms. Another, trying to calm a colleague hooked his finger into the collar of that worthy's shirt, and dragged him forcibly to his seat. The captive turned purple for a moment, and then retreated to the rear of the hall, where he continued his cries.

This boisterous behaviour has spread a few blocks away to the senate. Meetings are held in the smaller Sixteenth Century Madama palace. Members had previously been appointed by the king and were usually markedly sedate.

However, this year the electoral bill vote was announced while senators slugged each other with broken chairs. The Left-Wing formed a wedge to try and pull the presiding officer out of his seat.

A COMMUNIST woman legislator walked up to a Christian Democrat, shouted, "You cheated us!" and slapped his face. The white-bearded aristocrat bowed slightly and said, "Thank God you are a woman and I am a gentleman!" and stalked away.

The president of the senate was hit on the head with a piece of wood thrown by a Communist. He then resigned.

A result was the first chamber and senate remodeling in 30 years. Inkwells were fastened to desks and desks to the floors.

However, it looks as if the forthcoming sessions will be at least as robust. Among the newcomers is a Communist who was in prison awaiting trial for the theft of Mussolini's treasure.

Another, accused of several killings, has returned from three years' refuge in Czechoslovakia to take his seat. Two others are neo-Fascist "heroes" of a bomb-throwing incident in Trieste.

The chamber of deputies meets in the Seventeenth Century Montecitorio palace. Above the presiding officer's head is a bas-relief of the late King Victor Emanuel II. Observers sometimes wonder if the quarrelling deputies are aware of the figure that watches, perhaps ironically, over these violent manifestations of Italian republicanism.

Cancer Victim Held In Slaying

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The State of Arizona acted today to save Herman Nagle's life so he can stand trial for the slaying of his 23-year-old invalid daughter.

Nagle, 54, a retired Brooklyn, N.Y., policeman, was shackled to a bed at Memorial Hospital where doctors said his condition was "grave."

He was charged with the first-degree murder of his daughter, Betty Virginia, in their home Saturday.

Although the hospital refused to discuss his illness, Nagle said he learned he has cancer. He said he carried out a pact he made with his daughter to kill her if his own death seemed certain to come soon.

The daughter had suffered all her life from cerebral palsy.

Missouri Town Seeing 'Cobras'

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—King cobras usually are found in India, but people have reported seeing them around here lately and they're getting worried.

They've even stocked up on cobra serum, flown here from Florida.

The latest of a series of six snakes was found last night by 10-year-old Vicki Solomon. She and her dad said they thought it was a cobra. But a pet shop owner, who took the snake away, said he thought it was a common bull snake.

A snake found Aug. 22 started the entire commotion. A high school science teacher identified it as a king cobra. Finders of the other snakes also said they believed they were cobras.

Full H-Bomb Test Claimed Planned

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Sun says the United States may explode a "fully developed" H-bomb next year.

The paper's military correspondent in Washington, Mark S. Watson, wrote that as a result of recent technical developments "there now is in prospect, in 1954, a test at Bikini Atoll of a fully developed hydrogen-bomb, the world's first true weapon of that type."

The copyrighted story said, "No formal and official statement on this matter is expected until late next month."

In Washington, the Atomic Energy Commission had no comment.

Building Collapse Is Fatal To 7

HONG KONG (AP)—The death toll in the collapse of building framework and scaffolding rose to seven today.

Searchers found four bodies after removing some of the debris with cranes.

Three dead were extricated yesterday shortly after the collapse of the scaffold and superstructure of two four-story buildings under construction in Kowloon.

Police said a few other workmen still are missing. About 50 were injured, 25 seriously.

Cause of the collapse has not been determined.

There are about 150,000 amateur radio stations in the world of which about 100,000 are in the United States.

World's Pains In Financial Region Studied

Some Nations Think
Uncle Sam Hasn't Put Out Enough Aid Yet

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The world's money troubles are up for an airing today in Washington. Uncle Sam has used up billions of dollars since the war trying to shoulder them. Other countries think he still isn't doing enough.

Fifty five nations who now belong to the World Bank and to the International Monetary Fund are meeting to discuss what can be done to ease the world's financial pains.

Other nations want the United States to lower its tariffs further so they can get more dollars in trade here.

And some would like to see this country put up several billion dollars for a fund they could use to stabilize their own currencies with the goal of making them convertible again.

Currency convertibility gets a lot of lip praise because it would open world trade, increase American markets. But it seems about as far off as ever.

What free convertibility means is: If you have British pounds and want to change them into U.S. dollars, or if you have German marks and want to change them into Argentine pesos, you can do so without any fuss and without asking any government's permission. A long time ago you could.

For years now only a very few of the world's currencies could be converted freely. Our government will let anyone change dollars into pounds, but won't let Americans change dollars into gold.

The reason England, for example, won't permit full and free convertibility of currencies is that her pound isn't very stable. The reserves of dollars and gold behind it isn't big enough yet—although growing of late—to risk letting anyone get dollars for pounds whenever he wants them.

So some are suggesting that the United States should back heavily a stabilization fund. Suggestions range from four to 35 billion dollars.

The idea is that with this to fall back on, England could risk freeing her pound. That is, if convertibility should bring on a run on her pound that would exhaust her present slim reserves, she could draw on the stabilization fund, thus allaying fears and making her pound stable again.

The Eisenhower administration is committed to the general aim of helping in the stabilization of world currencies as a fine thing for the future.

But any talk about a big stabilization fund is likely to bring demands in Congress that first the other countries halt their domestic inflation, toughen up their currencies at home, and also lower some of the barriers they have raised against American goods.

Woman, 64, Dies Seeking 'Cache'

PHOENIX (AP) — Mrs. Victoria Rickey died tonight without the chance to look again for "the wash-tub of money" she said is buried under her home.

The 64-year-old Phoenix woman died of burns she received when fire destroyed her house Aug. 22.

She was hospitalized twice by the fire, the second time after she escaped from Maricopa County Hospital to return to the ruins of the house. Police found her digging in the rubble, "looking for the cash and jewelry."

After returning her to the hospital, police found $10,000 worth of jewelry and $600 cash. But they couldn't find the washtub.

The axe was probably the first weapon or tool to have a handle says the National Geographic Society.

Hornsby Named Heir To Estate

CHICAGO (AP) — A will naming Cincinnati Redleg Manager Rogers Hornsby as sole beneficiary of the estate of Mrs. Bernadette Ann Harris, his personal secretary and friend who committed suicide, was found in a safe deposit box here yesterday.

A representative of the Illinois attorney general's office also found $25,000 in currency in the box. Police investigators earlier had discovered a bank book showing Mrs. Harris had deposited nearly $29,000 in a Loop bank in less than two years. Mrs. Harris, 55-year-old divorcee, plunged to her death from her third floor apartment Monday.

'Escape-Proof' Jail Reinforced

DENVER (AP) — New bars were welded yesterday into the visitor's window of Denver's "escape-proof" city jail, following the jail's first escape since it was built 13 years ago.

Clay M. Robinson, 18, of Denver, who had been arrested on a vagrancy count Monday, was still at large.

He had smashed through a plate glass and wire window and then fast-talked his way down the elevator and out of the building.

Police termed it not a real break but only a "mixup."

Driving Champion Freed By Judge

CANTON (AP) — Municipal Judge Adolph Unger yesterday dismissed a reckless driving charge against Miss Margaret M. Van Alman, 18, picked previously as Canton's student driving champion.

Police had accused her of racing another driver away from a stoplight. The judge said his decision might have been different had she been charged with speeding, but that the reckless driving charge was too vague.

Small North Sea Town Lives On Flotsam Of Shipwrecks

RANTUM-SYLT, Germany (AP) — The tragic harvest of shipwreck at sea goes into the thatched roof cottages of this tiny fishing village on the north German island of Sylt.

Window shutters here are made of ship planks washed ashore. Carved figureheads of forgotten three-masters and ancient brass cabin lanterns decorate its driftwood homes.

For centuries this small community behind the North Sea dikes has lived on the flotsam of shipwreck. After heavy gales the young and old of Rantum walk the windswept beaches looking for whatever the sea has cast up with the tide.

Landlubbers may say it's a mean way to make a living, but Andreas Nissen, Rantum's shore bailiff, only shrugs and says, "Somebody's death is somebody's bread."

Nissen's cottage, built two centuries ago and shipshape from thatched roof to tarred cellar, is solid evidence of the days when beachcombing was a really lucrative enterprise. Every part of its dark sturdy woodwork has a story of its own. A medieval figurehead over the gable window was sawed off the bow of an ill-fated Dutch merchant ship.

But "the fat years of beachcombing are gone forever," complains Frau Voltjes of Langeoog, the only 200 shore bailiffs.

The rewards for Rantum and its sister communities have been diminishing steadily since steamships replaced sailing vessels.

"When a modern steel ship goes to the bottom the odds are she takes her cargo along," Frau Voltjes says. "Only in rare cases does the vessel break up and spill her load."

Gone are the days when unscrupulous beachcombers set up false beacon fires to lure ships on the shoals and no longer can beachcomber rightly claim as his own the goods he finds washed up on shore. He is bound by law to hand whatever he finds over to the shore bailiff.

The bailiff stores flotsam in a shed and gives public notice. If the owner does not appear, the goods are sold at auction. The receipts go to the state treasury and the beachcomber gets a small cut.

In the bailiff's shed at Rantum now are bales of sticky rubber, barrels of English ale, sulphuric acid, liquid ammonia, cases of rancid butter, cans of lard, mining timber and lots of unripe bananas.

$307,500 Winner Back On Old Job

CHICAGO (AP) — Herbert J. Idle, who won a $307,500 prize contest three weeks ago, returned to his $420 a month city job yesterday after a vacation.

"I'm going to work like I always have," Idle told his superiors in the City Water Department, where he is a junior engineer. Idle, 55, and a city employee for 32 years, says he wants to work two or three years and then retire and devote his time to writing religious music. Income taxes may cut his net winnings in the puzzle contest to about $70,000.

Midget Actress Dies At Age 77

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Funeral services were scheduled today for Mrs. Nona Cooper, 77, known for more than half a century as Lady Dolly, the midget actress.

The widow of film cowboy Tex Cooper, she stood only 3 feet 7 inches tall. She died Saturday.

Mrs. Cooper was a schoolteacher in her younger years. Later she worked in the movies for many years and was a stand-in for child actresses.

Next Of Kin Of 944 GIs Given Hope

WASHINGTON (AP)—A faint spark of hope went out from the Pentagon today to the next of kin of 944 American servicemen whose whereabouts are unknown since their reported capture by the Reds in Korea.

The Defense Department list will be made public beginning tomorrow, 24 hours after telegrams are dispatched to the relatives of the men missing and unaccounted for.

The list includes 610 from the Army, 312 from the Air Force, 19 from the Marines and 3 from the Navy. The Communists were asked yesterday to account for them.

The list of missing men was based on Communist propaganda reports, the word of their exchange buddies, private letters and other sources.

The Communists have not reported that any of the men escaped or died in captivity.

The Pentagon said yesterday the next of kin of the 944 Americans are being sent this message:

"The secretary of the (appropriate department) has asked me to inform you that the name of (the missing serviceman) was included in a list of servicemen who, there is reason to believe, were at one time in Communist custody but for whom no accounting has yet been made. This list has been presented to the Communists with an urgent request for such an accounting.

"All possible efforts are being made to obtain information regarding (the serviceman's name) and in the event any is received, it will be furnished to you promptly without request by you."

Field Days All Over

terested in agriculture as a business and a science and (2) the ground was so hard-baked by the sun and drought that the plowing was difficult, but even this unusual condition put the competitors to the acid test.

The crowd of Wednesday was estimated at nearly twice as big as the one on the first day. The turnout was placed at around 5,000—just about what the first day's too liberal estimate had been.

The big event came to a gradual end; there was no final contest to be rung down, unless it was the announcement of the level land plowing contest results.

Most of those in the gathering were farmers and farm women.

They remained for some time visiting and talking about the things they had seen and heard. And that was described by the weary committee men who had put the whole thing on as encouraging.

NO ONE WOULD say what had been the outstanding feature of the event; nearly everyone had a different idea about that.

The wagon tours that took in the agronomy demonstration plots and the conservation projects were crowded from early until late and that was taken by the committee men as an indication of interest. They probably got the biggest play of anything.

Although the Air Tours were a little slow in getting a response ($3 per person), the planes were kept busy once they got started.

The conservation addresses by no less authorities than Dr. Robert Salter, chief of the U. S. Conservation Service of Washington, D. C., and A. W. Marion, chief of the state Department of Natural Resources, were heard by sizeable gatherings.

So were all of the programs designed especially for the women. While Bus Cummins of Logan won the contour plowing match on Tuesday with comparative ease, keen competition developed in the level land match.

ONLY 4 POINTS in the scoring separated the champion and Wilbur Chrisman of Fayette County in third place. Chrisman won the county contest Sunday on the Ohio Wesleyan Farm and entered the state contest as the representative of the host county.

Raymond Poos of Preble County, who finished second to Imbody was only 3.5 points behind the champion.

Herbert H. Schmidlapp of Miami County, was fourth with 68.7; Max Miller of Fairfield County and Lawrence Coettamoller, the defending champion from Mercer County, tied for fifth place with 65.5 each; Richard Brenstuhl of Ashland County, was seventh with 64.5; Rodney King of Muskingum County, was eighth with 64; Robert C. Atkin of Wood County, was ninth with 62.3; Robert M. Bair of Wyandot County, was tenth with 58 and Robert Henize of Adams County, was eleventh.

With the exception of the Fayette County champion and the defending champion, all the plowmen were the best in their districts.

One of the features of the Field Days was the land judging contest by teams of 4-H and FFA boys. This was something comparatively new and attracted considerable attention.

Planning for the plowing matches and Field Days started more than a year ago and before the event was finally launched Tuesday morning literally scores of men and women had a hand in working out some phase of it. All told, they gave hours of their time and effort to putting it on.

Fisher was the general chairman and presided over the committee meetings that were held at least once a month. His chief lieutenants were from the staff of the Extension Service in the county, W. W. Montgomery, the county agent, Albert G. Cobb, the associate county agent, and Mrs. Olive Woodard, the home demonstration agent, who headed the committee that set up the program for the women Ralph R. Penn, the chairman of the county's Sesquicentennial committee. The event was a part of the observance of the state's 150th birthday here.

One of the last features of the event was the panel discussion of conservation and farming by four foreign exchange students, Mrs. Roy Wipert was the moderator.

On the panel were two native Ohioans, Miss Miriam Bouie, now a home demonstration agent in Wayne County, and Don Gehres, a student at Ohio State University, and two from foreign lands, Antonio Amici from Argentina, and Jai Chand Sirkek from India.

In moderating the panel, Mrs. Wipert drew from the panelists their impressions of agriculture, home life and the general economic and social conditions in their native lands.

Miss Bouie, whose home was in adjoining Pickaway County, spent much of 1951 with a farm family in Israel. Gehres went to Germany last year. Amici has been living with a farm family in South Dakota, but is now with another in Wayne County, where he has easy access to the Ohio agricultural experiment station at Wooster. Sirkek is now living with a farm family in Medina County.

These International Farm Youth Exchange students, Mrs. Wipert explained, live on the farm and take a part in the family life and work.

One of Greene County's most desirable small farms improved with good, modern one-and-one-half-story frame house with five rooms and bath on first floor, two rooms on the second floor. Basement. Automatic oil furnace, electric hot water heater, large front porch, enclosed side porch and attached garage. This house is in extra good condition with modern kitchen, 220 electric service and water under pressure. Main barn 30x45 with stanchions for eight cows, stock barn 42x22, hog barn with driveway and crib in connection. Concrete feeding platform. Two poultry houses and utility building. All buildings are in good state of repair. Electricity in all main buildings. Land is level and all tillable except five acres of woods. Soil is very productive and in a high state of cultivation. Good fences and drainage. Ample water supply. General farm appearances are far above the average. This desirable small farm is exceptionally well located near Jamestown and fronts on U. S. Route 35. All modern rural conveniences available including bus service. Jamestown school district. Only 20 miles from Springfield and 25 miles from Dayton. If you are interested in buying one of Greene County's good small farms with modern improvements and the best of location, we recommend this one.

Sale on the premises. Sells to the highest bidder.

TERMS—$3,000.00 cash at time of sale, balance to be paid on delivery of deed. Purchaser will receive good title, full seeding privileges and full possession on or about December 1, 1953.

52-ACRE TRACT SELLS AT 2:30 P. M.

LOCATED—Just west of the above described 63 acre farm fronting on U. S. Route 35 on the north side of the highway.

This 52 acre tract is located just west of the 63 acre farm and has approximately 1700 feet of road frontage on U. S. Highway 35. 36 acres are tillable and under cultivation. 16 acres are permanent bluegrass pasture and scattered woods. The tillable land is very productive and in a high state of cultivation. Running water in the bluegrass pasture furnishes ample water supply for livestock. This 52 acre tract with over 1700 feet of road frontage lends itself for sub-division since there are a number of desirable building sites along the highway. Electricity available.

Fall Flower Show Here To Be Sept. 18

The garden clubs of Fayette County will present their annual fall flower show on Sept. 18 at the Country Club. The theme of the show is to be the song "Beautiful Ohio" and each class represents a line of that song, in keeping with the Sesquicentennial celebration of the state.

The fall flower show is the culmination of the spring and summer work of the various garden clubs and is always the largest show of the year in the county.

Each garden club in Fayette County is eligible to make one entry in each class. All exhibits must be staged by 11 A. M. on the day of the show. Judging will begin at noon and no one is to be permitted in the hall during that period.

At 2 P. M. the Country Club will be opened to the public. It will remain open until 9 P. M. No exhibit is to be removed until the closing time.

The following committees have been appointed by the president's council:

Staging, Posing, publicity, T. W. in Oaks, hospitality and information, Fayette and Pic-Fay: conservation and educational exhibits, Town and Country and Busy Bee commercial and trade exhibits, Washington and Buckeye, refreshments, Marilee and restoration, Sunshine.

THE VARIOUS classes are as follows:

Long, long ago—featuring antique containers.

Someone I know—arrangement in a picture frame or an arrangement using a picture as an accessory.

In a little red canoe—red arrangement depicting motion.

Love found its start—arrangement of roses.

Deep in my heart—arrangement using a heart theme.

Then like a flower it grew—arrangement using living plant material.

Drifting with the current—featuring driftwood or weathered wood.

While above the heavens in their glory gleam—arrangement using colors of the sky.

And the stars on high twinkle in the sky!—mass arrangement. Seeming in a paradise of love divine—arrangement in a madonna. Dreaming of a pair of eyes that looked in mine—twin arrangements.

Beautiful Ohio in dreams again I see—arrangement using material native to Ohio.

Visions of what used to be!—using an old lighting contrivance. Niche—"Johnny Applesseed."

All flowers must be garden-grown and the exhibitors must furnish their own containers. Foreign foliage, accessories, bases and mats will be allowed in all classes, but no artificial or dyed plant material may be used.

Hiccuper Slated For New Clinic

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jack O'Leary, who has hiccuped at least once a second, night and day, for more than five years, is going to the Portland (Ore.) Clinic late this month for treatment.

His mother, Mrs. Margaret O'Leary, said last night that Jack, 27, has not been feeling well the past month and has complained of feeling "smothered".

Jack, who weighed 135 pounds before his appendix ruptured June 13, 1948, is down to 77 pounds. He is unable to retain food longer than an hour and cannot sleep longer than an hour at a time.

Picnic Set For Sept. 27 For CCAFB Employees

A picnic for all employees and former employees of the Clinton County Air Force Base is being planned for Sept. 27 at 4 P. M. at the General Denver Park in Wilmington.

They and their families are invited to attend and are urged to pass the invitation to former employees who have moved from this community.

Each family is asked to come early and renew old acquaintances and also to bring a potluck picnic basket.

Poet's Corner

THE DEAREST PLACE

The dearest place on earth,
is home;
It matters not how far we roam
We still think and dream of home;
Home is the place where loved ones dwell;
In youth and age we love it well—
In good homes God will always dwell;
And there is that fair home
above,
Where there is always peace
and love,
And dear ones wait us there
above;
With home we start, with home
we end;
Way between may the Lord
commend,
So His home 'waits us at life's end.

May M. Duffee

IT IS PAST

The heat that almost got us down
Is past and days are pleasant now;
The rains came, renewed the dying crops—
Cool breezes fan our fevered brow;
And so it is with sorrow, pain,
With wars, disasters, heat and cold—
They all come to an end at last;
Life's history is again retold;
Each has its trouble large and small;
We must believe and just endure
God's will, whatever may befall.

May M. Duffee

Lieut. Charles Dray Spends Weekend Here

Second Lieut. Charles Dray spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Dray, of the Old Springfield Road, while on his way from Sampson Air Force Base at Geneva, N. Y., to Columbus Air Force Base at Columbus, Miss.

Lieut. Dray was commissioned last spring when he was graduated from Ohio State University where he was in the ROTC. He told his parents he expects to enter pilot training on his new assignment and has an ambition to fly jet planes.

Lieut. Gray was graduated from Washington C. H. High School in 1949.

New power developments at Niagara Falls will operate at night and in the off season to cut the flow over the falls to about one fourth of the normal volume, but will permit almost full flow when sightseers are likely to be present.

$5,830,517

Spent By Ohio
Legislatures

Figures Since 1947
Show Trend In Costs
For Assembly Alone

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio legislatures spent $5,830,517 since 1947 to run four sessions and operate their legislative halls and offices.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes came up with the figures today at the request of an office holder.

The period covered began in 1947
when the 97th General Assembly met and ended last June 30 during the session of the 100th General Assembly.

The 100th took final adjournment
Aug. 7. Some expenses of that session will show up in totals for the fiscal year that began July 1 and will end next June 30. The Legislature meets every two years.

The state operated on calendar years in 1947 and 1948. Total legislative expense those years was just over $1,364,300. The House spent nearly $945,000 of that total and the Senate about $419,000.

In 1949, the state switched to a fiscal year beginning July 1. The cost of running the 98th General Assembly that met during the first half of 1949 ran more than $810,
000. The House spent more than
$562,200 of that sum.

The next two fiscal years ending June 30, 1951, included the 99th legislative session that met in the first half of 1951. Total cost for that session and the biennium was slightly more than $1,703,000. The Senate accounted for less than $500,000 of that amount.

For the two fiscal years ended last June 30, that included most of the 100th legislative session, the total was more than $1,932,600. The House spent about $1,273,300 and the Senate more than $659,300.

The House of Representatives customarily has about 100 more members than the Senate. The 100th had 136 representatives and 33 senators.

Major item of expense was the pay of legislators and employees, including chaplains in both the House and Senate. Personal service totals for the first six months of the 100th General Assembly were $627,890 for the House and $250,032 for the Senate.

Other expenditures went for telephone and other communications, postage, express, printing, cleaning, repairs and the like.

Air conditioning of the legislative halls, committee rooms and offices for the 100th cost more than $156, 500.

Lions Showing Improvement But Injuries Discouraging

It was a none-too-happy bunch of WHS Lions that was getting ready to go to Lancaster Friday night for a game-like scrimmage. Their unhappiness stemmed from injuries that have sidelined two of the team's mainstays; Max Schlichter, 210-pound tackle, and Lyle Self, 160-pound right halfback. How long they will be out is uncertain, Coach Dennis Bell said. But he expressed the hope that they would be in the lineup when the Lions go to Columbus Sept. 18 for their first game of the season with Linden-McKinley High School's Panthers.

Schlichter came out of a collision with Self with a torn knee cartilage and Self was left with a bruised back. Injuries have been one of Coach Bell's big worries. He said at the start that the squad lacked depth in experienced players for replacements. The material was there, he said, but the boys needed more seasoning and game experience.

GLEN MILSTEAD is starting out as the jack-of-all-trades—and considerably of a master at them too—for the team. He has been working out some in the backfield, both as a blocker and ballcarrier and doing all right, but for the present, at least, Coach Bell plans to keep him at his old guard post. On the brighter side of the outlook, in the eyes of Coach Bell, is the improvement shown by every boy on the squad. It has been the gradual development of the backfield candidates, he said,

We Ain't Dead, So Says Grimm Of Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"We ain't dead yet."

It was Charley Grimm talking last night in the Milwaukee Braves clubhouse after his team had dropped a 2-0 decision to Philadelphia.

"We haven't hit since we left Brooklyn," Grimm mused as he watched his athletes tramped over wrapping paper left from gifts showered on them by admirers. "I don't know why, but we haven't done a thing since then."

The Braves whipped Brooklyn twice, 9-8 and 6-1, on their last Eastern trip early this month.

Reminded that the magic number in the National League pennant race now is two, Grimm shook his head.

"Well," he said, "we'll be ready for them. We ain't dead by a long ways and as long as we've got a chance we'll be in there. All we need is some hitting."

The Dodgers, who come in here tomorrow for a two-game series, can clinch their second successive pennant by winning twice. If they win today in Cincinnati, all they'll need is one victory to wrap it up.

Grimm said Lew Burdette, the lanky right-hander he promoted from the bullpen to starting status in midseason, would go against the Dodgers in the first game of the series tomorrow night. Burdette beat Brooklyn on a six-hitter at Ebbets Field Sept. 3, and will take a 14-4 record into the game.

Hoosier Hound Cops Leafy Oaks

KENTON (AP)—Lum Jr., a black and tan hound, earned $1,200 for his owners, Ralph and Bob Little of Knox, Ind., and Stu Plank of Columbus, yesterday by winning the National Leafy Oak Coon Dog Trials.

He was first to sniff his way across the finish line and first to bark at the treed raccoon.

Dark Secret, mixed stag and hound owned by R. D. Smith of Deersville, Harrison County, was second in both tree and line divisions. He won $800.

3 Buck Fullbacks On Ailing List

COLUMBUS (AP)—Three of Ohio State's best fullbacks seem sure to miss football scrimmages scheduled by Coach Woody Hayes for tomorrow.

Bob Watkins was in the hospital yesterday with a minor infection when he was joined by Jack Gibbs and Jack Augustine—casualties of the daily practice session. Both received minor injuries.

Purdue '11' Looking Strong Despite Loss Of 8 Seniors

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue University's football squad looks remarkably strong for an outfit that sent eight seniors to the various post season all-star games last year.

It won't have a passing combination like quarterback Dale Samuels and end Bernie Flowers of last season's Big Ten co-champions but it may be a better running team.

The Boilermakers are big and won't suffer much from the limited substitution rule.

Fullback Max Schmaling of Sterling, Ill., should be one of the country's best in his senior year. A 205 - pound quarter miler, he plowed through opponents for seven touchdowns last fall.

Sophomore Bill Murakowski of East Chicago, Ind., whose brother Art was one of Northwestern's all-time greats, probably will be used extensively at halfback. He weighs 195.

More beef was added to the backfield by Mike Maccioli's return from the Army. He starred in the Boilermaker's 1950 victory over Notre Dame that ended a string of 39 victories for the Irish.

Maccioli, a 180-pounder, scored 27 touchdowns two years ago for the Fifth Division team at Indiantown Gap, Pa., and played most of last season with the Camp Drake team in Tokyo. He was rated one of Purdue's top defensive performers in 1950 and is tailor made for the limited substitution era.

Purdue's other seasoned runners include fullback Jim Reichert of Harvey, Ill., 191 pounds, and halfbacks Rex Brock, 160 of Stafford, Kan., and scrappy Ed Zemba of Chicago, 164.

Quarterback Roy Evans lacks the graduated Samuels' reputation as a passer but he completed 15 of 38 last fall for 234 yards and one touchdown. He's a senior from Chicago and will be understudied by Froncie Gutman, a six-foot sophomore of Fort Wayne, Ind.

The only little fellow in the line will be end John Kerr of Honolulu, 167 pounds and 5 feet 11, who caught two touchdowns passes last fall. Jim Wojciechowski of Wakefield, Mich., 206 and 6-3, will be on the other flank.

Opponents moving through Purdue's line will have to displace tackles Joe Krupa, 232 pounds, and David Whiteaker, 212; guards Fred Preziosio, 248, and Tom Bettis, 215, and center Walt Judzik, 199.

Four of that muscular quintet were contributed by Chicago. Whiteaker, the exception, is from Toledo, Ohio. All are seasoned performers except Krupa, a sophomore of surprising agility for his size.

Purdue's chances of staying on top of the Big Ten this fall probably would be better if Michigan State hadn't become eligible for the crown. On the other hand, the Boilermakers lost to the Spartans by a single touchdown last fall and threatened to score in the last minutes.

The teams won't meet until mid-season, Oct. 24, in Lafayette. Purdue starts at Missouri, Sept. 26. It plays Notre Dame here Oct. 3, at Duke Oct. 10, Wisconsin here Oct. 17, at Illinois Oct. 31, Iowa here Nov. 7, at Ohio State Nov. 14 and at Indiana Nov. 21.

Ratterman Due To Aid Browns In Backfield

HIRAM (AP)—His sore arm almost well again, George Ratterman is scheduled to help Otto Graham with the quarterbacking duties when the Cleveland Browns meet the Chicago Bears tomorrow night in Chicago.

The 27-year-old griddler is the only man on the Cleveland squad who hasn't been tested in exhibitions this season, except for holding the pigskin of Lou Groza's place kicks against the Baltimore Colts Monday night. He took part in passing practice yesterday, though, and reported only a trace of pain in the right arm that has kept him sidelined.

A Cincinnati resident who doubles as a lawyer and investment broker during the off-season, Ratterman saw little action last year as he completed two of six passes for 20 yards gained. He is a veteran of the Buffalo Bills, New York Yanks and Montreal Alouettes.

Tommy James and Darrell Brewster are recuperating from slight injuries they suffered in an auto accident Sunday night. James expects to be back at his job at defensive right half, but Brewster probably will get another week's rest.

Indians Tighten Grip On Second

BOSTON (AP)—More firmly in second place after last night's 2-1 victory over Boston, the Cleveland Indians send Early Wynn against the Red Sox today in an effort to run their win streak to six.

Cleveland, still nine games behind New York, moved three games away from Chicago as the Yankees whipped the White Sox 9-3. Mike Garcia, wiring his 17th game, and Al Rosen, slugging his 40th homer for 15th Tribe runs, were the heroes of last night's victory. Garcia held the Red Sox to seven hits and blanked Ted Williams three times.

This demonstration was worth many hundreds of dollars to me!

I thought only a higher-priced car would suit me. But then I found out how much more Chevrolet offered for how much less!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response —right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

roiet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

No Applicants For PMA Post

Office Manager
To Be Put in Here

That new position of office manager for the Production and Marketing Administration in Fayette County is still open.

Percie Kennell, the chairman of the county PMA committee, said Thursday morning that the committee, which is charged with the responsibility of filling the post, had not yet received any applications—or even any inquiries. He added, however, that there had hardly been time enough for anyone to decide to make a try for it.

The announcement of the change in the PMA administrative setup came Wednesday as something of a surprise, although it had been hinted at earlier in the year by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

The new system is to be put into effect in all county PMA offices in Ohio and since Secy. Benson first mentioned it, indications were that the change would be nationwide.

THE NEW OFFICE manager is to take over the duties now being handled by the chief clerk, the announcement said. But there was nothing in the state PMA directive about them replacing any of the regular staff at present.

Chairman Kennell said he understood that the county committee-men would be restricted to six days a month in the office, but that there still would be plenty of field work for them. They are paid for the time actually spent on the job, he added.

Members of the Fayette County committee are Kennell, the chairman who succeeded Harry Silcott earlier in the year, Delbert Morris and Lawrence Grimm. Kennell said he has been giving full time to the job, Morris about three-fourths time and Grimm about half-time.

Kennell said he was not yet certain just what the office manager job here would pay. He explained that salary scales will vary, depending on the amount of work to be done.

Dave Herman, manager of the state PMA office, said the salaries would be in three classifications, $2,720, $3,240 and $3,760 annually. He said while it would be possible for a local committeeman to apply for the job, it would be necessary for him to resign as a committeeman first so that he could not act on his own application.

The salaries will be paid out of federal appropriations. It was expected that Fayette County PMA office would be in the middle bracket, possibly the top one.

Committee members and those on the present staff may try for the new jobs if they have the qualifications, which include farm experience or knowledge, technical office ability and ability to do public speaking and compose correspondence. The age limit is 18 to 65 years.

Funeral Is Held For George Wing

Largely attended funeral services were conducted for George B. Wing at 2 P. M. Wednesday at the Methodist Church in Williamsport.

Former pastor of the church, Rev. J. H. Sudlow, read the Scripture and delivered the sermon. Rev. John Devall sang the two hymns, "Old Rugged Cross" and "Going Down The Valley". Rev. John Musselman offered prayer.

The many floral tributes were cared for by the pallbearers who were William Kavel, Ross Straley, Ray Horch, Roy Wright, Thurman Betts and Arnold Hastings.

Interment was in the family lot of the Springlawn Cemetery under the direction of the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home of New Holland.

Case Being Heard By Judge and Jury

Charges of drunken driving, filed against Raymond Clemmer on July 12, in municipal court, were being heard before Judge R. L. Brubaker and a jury Thursday.

Charles S. Hire represents Clemmer and William Junk the prosecution.

Work of impaneling a jury was started at 9:30 A. M.

A number of witnesses had been summoned to testify in the case.

Livestock Truck Ban

(Continued from page 1) what is needed to bring the water plant here up to-date so an abundance of water would be available at all times.

He said that the matter would be taken up later as soon as all members had gone over the engineer's report.

He also said the water company has leased land and will drill a test well in an entirely new field in an effort to augment the city's water supply. Drilling, he said, would start within a short time, south of the city.

Three members of council were absent, Roy Baughn, Paul Van Voorhis and Ronald Cornwell. Council voted to excuse them as has been done in cases of absences for years.

Courts

DIVORCE CRANTED

Judge John P. Case has granted a divorce to Robert E. Brannon on his cross petition filed after Evelyn L. Brannon had filed suit for divorce. The plaintiff later withdrew her petition, and the divorce was awarded to Brannon on the part of the plaintiff. Custody of their minor children was awarded the defendant, with plaintiff to have their custody one month each year during school vacation time, and have them for a short time each month.

CASES DISMISSED

The divorce suits of Leona McNutt against Carry McNutt and Dolores Crabtree against Forrest L. Crabtree, have been dismissed upon application of the plaintiffs in the action.

AWARDED DIVORCE

Mabel E. Smith has been awarded a divorce from Harry W. Smith on grounds of gross neglect of duty. Judge John P. Case approved a property agreement reached out of court.

DIVORCE DECREE

On claims of gross neglect of duty, Lois Corson has been granted a divorce from Ted Corson. All household goods were awarded to the plaintiff, and custody of their child. Defendant is to pay $12 weekly for support of the child.

WILL IS FILED

The will of Nora Stewart Fultz has been probated and Roy B. Fultz has been named executor without bond.

APPROVAL GIVEN

An inventory and appraisal in the Sherman Coil estate has been approved by the probate court.

DISTRIBUTION ORDERED

Distribution of assets in kind in the Jess Blackmer estate has been authorized.

NO ADMINISTRATION

The William Howe estate has been relieved of administration.

INVENTORY APPROVED

The probate court has approved an inventory and appraisal filed in the Wells S. Jones estate.

INHERITANCE TAX

Inheritance tax in the Mary Maynard Dahl estate has been fixed at $2,132.70, based on a valuation of $164,135.81.

COPY OF WILL FILED

An authenticated copy of the will of W. L. Downen has been admitted to record in the probate court here.

APPLICATION FILED

David McIntosh has filed an application with the probate court for removal of Mary Lou Yahn as administratrix of the estate of Ada B. McIntosh. Hearing has been set for Sept. 21.

Lloyd C. Hill Dies At Kansas City Home

Mrs. Ricketts left immediately for Kansas City. She had no details of his death or funeral plans.

Rotary Meets Assembly Meet

Committee Chairmen
Discuss Future Plans

Officers, directors and committee chairmen of the Washington Rotary Club, which group composes the Rotary Assembly, Wednesday evening talked over future plans for the club possible projects to be undertaken this year and other matters pertaining to the local organization's future.

The meeting was a dinner session held at the Anderson Drive-In Restaurant. President Joe Peters was in charge and called upon each committee chairman who had any matter of club business or possible plan affecting the club's future, to bring the subject up for discussion.

One of the principal objectives of the meeting was to talk over reports to be made by all chairmen at the meeting on September 22 when the district governor, Judge James F. Bell, of London, will make his official visit to the club.

The governor will hold a preliminary session with President Peters and Secretary Paul Dougherty on the morning of his visit here. Following this he will appear at the Rotary luncheon at the Country Club and deliver an address. Immediately after the regular club meeting he will hold a session with the club assembly and receive reports from all committee chairmen.

Mrs. Anna Robinett Dies Unexpectedly

Mrs. Anna C. Robinett, 87, died unexpectedly at 2:45 A. M. Thursday at her home in Jonesboro. Although her health had not been the best since last May, she had been going about her normal life until Wednesday night.

A native of Pike County, Mrs. Robinett had lived in Fayette County since coming here in 1923. Her husband, George Robinett, died in 1926.

She is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Charles Dytom, of Bellefontaine, Mrs. George Seely of Bedford, Mrs. Amos Stout of Akron, Miss Mary Robinett at home and Mrs. Glenn Pickelsimer of Washington C. H., and three sons, Fred of Spargursville, Frank of Alvada and William of London.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 P. M. Saturday at the Gerstner Funeral Home. Interment is to be in the Bainbridge Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 P. M. Thursday.

Returned POW Is Given Warm Welcome Here

Corporal William E. Wood, 21, so far as is known the only Fayette County service man who has been a prisoner of war in Korea, arrived home about midnight Monday, and has been an exceedingly busy young man ever since his arrival here.

At Ft. Knox, Kentucky, where he was returned with other POWs from this region of the country, after being exchanged, he was met by his mother, Mrs. Earl Wood, his brother, Edgar, and the latter's wife, and another relative, Gene Bellars, who had motored to Kentucky to bring him home.

Corp. Wood has had very little sleep since coming home. Literally scores of relatives and friends have swarmed about him and he has been overwhelmed with welcoming greetings.

He has lost weight and is somewhat nervous as a result of his 27 months of captivity, but is more than happy to be back home, although he says things are changed a lot since he left here about three years ago.

Corp. Wood, now enjoying a 30 day furlough, goes back to Ft. Knox soon for some medical attention and a tonsillectomy. He expects to be released from Army service soon afterward.

The Record-Herald plans to run a more complete story regarding his experience as a prisoner, in Saturday's issue.
